

Learning to Navigate The Mobius Strip of Money
A Retreat for Courage & Renewal Facilitators and Non-Profit Fundraisers
November 3-5, 2017
Kirkridge Retreat and Study Center
Bangor, Pennsylvania

To navigate the Mobius strip of money with grace and understanding, people need to examine their attitudes about money and where those attitudes originated. Money plays a strong role in our inner and outer lives, usually operating below the level of our complete awareness.

Money creates a certain kind of anxiety that makes talking about it something most people would rather avoid. This retreat is expressly designed for anyone who wishes to identify and transcend the psychological and spiritual obstacles that prevent us from being able to ask others to support our passion and our work. We will use Scottish Storyline, autobiography, and relationship building to improve our skills as fundraisers.

This will be a hands-on active exploration of our relationship to money. Come prepared to reflect, laugh, squirm, breathe, and ultimately live into a healthier relationship with money in your life.

“The journey of discovery begins not with new vistas but with having new eyes.”
Marcel Proust

RETREAT LEADERSHIP

Jeff Creswell creswell@icloud.com has been facilitating Courage & Renewal® retreats since 2000 for clergy and congregational leaders, educators and cross-professional groups. He was a classroom teacher in Portland, Oregon for 32 years, and is an educational consultant sharing the Scottish Storyline method with educators. He is a member of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral where he sings in the choir. He and his wife, Caryl enjoy spending time with their blended family of eight children and three grandchildren.

Megan LeBoutillier mlboots@earthlink.net is an artist and writer who has been involved with Circle of Trust from their inception in 1996. Prepared by The Center for Courage and Renewal to be a facilitator in 1999. As a Kirkridge Courage Fellow from 2015-2017 Megan studied fundraising practices, wrote a workbook for Courage facilitators and interviewed philanthropists so that fundraisers could hear their voices and learn about who they are at heart.

Patti Smith pattismith27@gmail.com facilitates retreats for the Center for Courage & Renewal and serves on the board of the Center for Biography and Social Arts. She is a former Waldorf teacher currently working in large urban high school districts to increase graduation rates and life opportunities for students. She is the co-editor with Signe Schaefer of More Lifeway's, a book on family growth and development.

Registration will be handled by Kirkridge Retreat Center.
